FORTUN FOODS TO STOCK SIX SOUP FLAVORS AT RESTAURANT DEPOT LOCATIONS IN OREGON AND WASHINGTON

Starting November 2016, soups will be sold in 4 lb. packages in freezer section

KIRKLAND, Wash. – October 21, 2016 – Fortun Foods is pleased to announce six flavors of its award-winning soups will be sold in the freezer section at Restaurant Depot locations in Oregon and Washington starting November 2016. The six flavors—Potato & Bacon, Cheddar & Broccoli, Classic Vegetable Beef & Barley, Azteca Chicken & Rice, Minestrone and New England Chowder—will be offered in a new 4 lb. package that yields one gallon of soup per package.

“Fortun Foods is proud to be partnering with Restaurant Depot to offer our fresh, quality soups to local restaurant purveyors in Oregon and Washington,” says Fortun Foods Founder Kevin G. Fortun. “Our hearty soups are a nutritious option for everyone, and the ease of preparation makes them an excellent menu option for restaurants.”

The chef-developed recipes of Fortun soups maintain high quality standards while providing time-saving solutions for restaurants who desire exceptional flavor and convenient preparation.

The soups, created with fresh vegetables and Fortun’s premium homemade stocks, contain no added preservatives or artificial flavors, MSGs or trans-fat and some options are gluten free. The product line is designed to give both restaurant operators and consumers better options in today’s world of value-engineered foods by using the finest ingredients while offering convenience and consistency.

About Fortun Foods

In 1981, Kevin G. Fortun developed a line of premium fresh-refrigerated soups, Stockpot Soups, which provided convenience and consistency to food service operators. Stockpot Soups, made with fresh, all natural ingredients and no preservatives, quickly became the leader in the field. After expanding into the retail market, Stockpot Soups grew into the largest fresh-refrigerated soup company in the world, with distribution in 23 countries. In 1998, Fortun sold Stockpot Soups to the Campbell Soup Company. For the development and launch of Fortun's Finishing Touch Sauces, Fortun has brought several key personnel from every department of his Stockpot Soups team back on board to create authentic gourmet sauces and soups designed for quality, consistency and convenience for the customer.
